

Understanding Personality Disorders

Seminar and launch of the Understanding Personality Disorders Network

The Collaborating Centre for Value-based Practice in Health and Social Care
St Catherine's College, Oxford University, Manor Road, OX1 3UJ

Date: Monday 10th June 2019      Time: 9.30am-4.15pm

The schedule:

9:30-9:45	Registration
9:45-10:15	Steve Pearce (Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust) Making a place for agency in the clinic
10:15-10:45	Rachel Cooper (Lancaster University, Department of Politics, Philosophy and Religion) Personality disorders and the logic of psychiatric classification
10:45-11:00	Refreshment break
11:00-11:30	Abdi Sanati (Royal College of Psychiatrist Philosophy SIG, London) Epistemic injustice in borderline personality disorder
11:30-12:00	Anna Bergqvist (Manchester Metropolitan University, Department of History, Politics, and Philosophy) The hoping gaze: moral perception and relational psychiatry in working with adults with BPD
12:00-12:30	James O'Neill (The Site for Contemporary Psychoanalysis, London, UK) After diagnosis
12:30-14:00	Lunch break
14:00-14:30	Richard Gipps (Oxford University, Faculty of Philosophy) Projective warping of the mind's moral fabric
14:30-15:00	Neil Armstrong (Oxford University, Institute of Social & Cultural Anthropology) Anthropological perspectives on personality, disorder, and personality disorder
15:00-15:15	Refreshment break
15:15-15:45	Konrad Banicki (Jagiellonian University, Institute of Applied Psychology) A Neo-Kraepelinian approach to personality disorders. Can we really cut them at joints?
15:45-16:15	Discussion and next steps
16:15	Closing remarks

Attendance: The attendance is free of charge and includes lunch and refreshments but the number of places available is limited. To book a place please get in touch with the convener, Konrad Banicki at konrad.banicki@uj.edu.pl If you have any dietary requirements (e.g. vegetarian / vegan / allergies) and/or special needs/requests please do mention them in your email.